Checklist for installing Ubuntu 22.04 LTS[1] Desktop.

This is a fillable PDF, no printing required.

Fill in the |text box| behind the underlined words, see [explanation]:

user		[Full name, e.g. John Doe]
username		[User name, e.g. john]
computername		[Name of the computer, e.g. pc02]
user		[Full name possibly 2nd user]
username		[User name possibly 2nd user]

Replace the underlined words in this checklist with those in the |text box|.

Not yet on Linux? → Use Checklist transfer on karelzimmer.nl/en under Linux.
New installation? → Start at chapter 2 Perform installation.

1 Prepare installation

☐ ☐ Log in as user[2].

☐   Install Debian-package kz[3]:
     Press the |Super| key[4], type term and click the Terminal icon.
     Type these two commands, each followed by the |Enter| key:
     ```
     wget karelzimmer.nl/getdeb
     bash getdeb
     ```
     Follow the instructions on the screen.

☐ ☐ Prepare the installation:
     Press the |Super| key[4], type menu and click the Installation menu icon.
     Select 1 Prepare installation.
     Follow the instructions on the screen.

---

1 LTS stands for Long-Term Support, and this April 2022 Ubuntu 22.04 LTS Desktop (codename jammy) will be supported for 5 years until April 2027, and with an free personal Ubuntu Pro subscription for 10 years until April 2032.
2 Login any additional users and follow the same steps.
3 Package kz contains scripts for installing and managing Debian and Debian-based systems such as Ubuntu.
4 The |Super| key is the Windows key, Command key (Apple), or Magnifier key (Chromebook).

2 Perform installation

☐ Boot the computer from[1] an Ubuntu 22.04 LTS Desktop Live[2] USB stick[3].
Select Try or Install Ubuntu.

☐ Click Install Ubuntu.

Follow the instructions on the installation screens.

☐ At Who are you?:
Enter your Your name user,
Your computer's name computername,
Pick a username usersname, and enter a password twice.

---

1 Boot menu/Setup via one of the frequently used keys: `Esc`, `Delete`, `F1`, `F2`, `F9`, `F10`, `F11`, or `F12`.
2 From a Live USB stick you can boot and work with Ubuntu without modifying any files on the hard drive and also allows installation of Ubuntu.
3 Create a bootable USB stick:
   Download a CD image file (.iso) from ubuntu.com, click consecutively Download > Get Ubuntu Desktop > Download 22.04….
   The next steps are described in Linux information, which can be found at karelzimmer.nl, under Linux.

3 Finish installation

☐ Log in as user.

☐ Follow the instructions on the welcome screens.

☐ Add any additional users with the following steps:
Press the `Super` key[1], typ user and click behind Settings on Users.
Click Unlock and enter password.
Click Add User.
Choose Account Type, Standard or Admin.
Enter Name user and Username username, and click Add.
Close the Users screen.

☐ Install updates:
Press the `Super` key[1], type upd and click the Software updater icon.
If updated software is available click Install Now.
Follow the instructions on the screen.

☐ Install Debian-package kz[2]:
Press the `Super` key[1], type term and click the Terminal icon.
Type these two commands, each followed by the `Enter` key:
```
wget karelzimmer.nl/getdeb
bash getdeb
```
Follow the instructions on the screen.

☐ Complete the installation:
Press the `Super` key[1], type menu and click the Installation menu icon.
Select 3 Finish installation.
Follow the instructions on the screen.

---

1 The `Super` key is the Windows key, Command key (Apple), or Magnifier key (Chromebook).
2 Package kz contains scripts for installing and managing Debian and Debian-based systems such as Ubuntu.

4 Provision user

☐ ☐ Log in as user[1].

☐ Follow the instructions on the welcome screens.

☐ ☐ Set up the user:
Press the `Super` key[2], type menu and click on the Installation menu icon.
Select 4 Provision user.
Follow the instructions on the screen.

End of checklist, Ubuntu 22.04 LTS Desktop installation is complete.

Written by Karel Zimmer, Creative Commons Zero 1.0 license ©⓪.

---

1   Login any additional users and follow the same steps.
2   The `Super` key is the Windows key, Command key (Apple), or Magnifier key (Chromebook).